THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.
No. XII.

The boldest and most unprincipled attack upon my reputation is a charge, that in the year 1795 I had given a deposition, which the general now undertakes to assert was false. The proof, however, on which he relies to support this assertion so completely contradicts it, that I did not think it necessary to make any thing more than a denial of the charge, hoping that no one would give credit to so foul an aspersion, without weighing the proofs produced in its support, and knowing that such an examination must result in the conviction of my innocence. Further reflection, however has taught me to believe that some more serious investigation on this point might be expected. I therefore entreat the attention of my fellow-citizens to the following statement, which will enable them to judge correctly on this point, so important to my reputation.

This being the state of things, a Mr. Wooster, an American, alledging that he intended to settle in New-Orleans, obtained permission to introduce a cargo of merchandize. This licence he transferred to John Blagge, John Jackson, and Leffert Lefferts, of New-York in consideration, among other things, that he should have a passage for himself and family in the vessel that was to carry out the cargo. These gentlemen accordingly sent out the brig Grand Sachem, belonging to them, with a cargo, which arrived at New Orleans early in the year 1792, with Mr. Wooster and his family on board. The permit being in his name, the vessel and cargo were of course introduced as his ; but the real owner had their supercargo, Mr. Matthias Nichols on board, who had the sole charge of the adventure, Mr. Wooster having no manner of interest whatever nor having ever received any transfer, either real or covered for the same.

of his circumstances, have been induced to make. The whole of this transaction was communicated to Baron de Carondelet, and received his sanction. The vessel returned to New York, where she was purchased from Messrs. Blagge, Jackson and Lefferts, by Mr. Jonathan Arnold. While she was his property, she made several voyages between New York and New Orleans, and in 1794 sailed for the Havanna, with the governor's lady and his suite on board, he preferring an American vessel (Spain being then at war with France) to a Spanish armed brig of 20 guns, then lying at his orders. On her return from the Havanna, the Grand Sachem sailed for Philadelphia, but was captured by a French privateer, called the Mountain, owned in part by a Monsieur Lavergne, residing in Charleston. She was ordered to the owners of the privateer, who pretended that the Grand Sachem was not the property of Arnold, but of some Spanish subject residing at New Orleans.—

I Daniel Clark do hereby solemnly swear that I was not ever, at any period, interested either in whole or in part, in the brig Grand Sachem, neither had I, nor any other person whatsoever, to the best of my knowledge, any title, deed or transfer of order from Jonathan Arnold, or the former proprietors of said vessel; that I was only agent for her while in the port of New-Orleans, where I received a commission for transacting her business from said Jonathan Arnold, whose sale property I know her to be; and I further swear that said Arnold had contracted to deliver in New-Orleans, in four months, to commence from the 5th day of July, 1794, the quantity of three thousand barrels of flour, at the rate of 13 dollars one and an half rials per barrel, or twelve dollars free of duty, at which price Captain Gideon Guyer, of Wilmington, in the state of Delaware, did in my presence propose to said Arnold to deliver to him, in New-Orleans, the whole or any part of the same, within the period of four months, which said Arnold could not agree to, from the persuasion as he informed me, that he could himself import it cheaper; and the said Arnold is, to my particular knowledge, liable to be presented for not complying with his contract.

DANIEL CLARK.

Answer.—She never was represented as belong to Spaniards, or naturalized subjects of Spain.

3d Answer.—I do not remember any receipt was shown to me, in which she is mentioned as my property. If any such receipt does exist, it must be through mistake.

weighed, and all suspicion of the foul crime, which I blush, even in my justification, to see coupled with my name, all idea of the slightest impropriety will vanish, while the abortive attempt to discredit me will shew the desperate nature of that cause which can only be supported by calumnies like these. Without any statement of the facts I have exhibited, it would naturally be asked, what motive could have induced a man in my situation to volunteer the commission of so detestable a crime? For even supposing that I had received an interest in 1792 it is clear, even without the proof I offer, that I had none when the vessel was lost.—What motive then could induce a man of good character and respectable station in life wantonly to prostitute the one, and forfeit all title to the other? This reflection would naturally lead to a close examination of the charges, and that must end in the persuasion of my innocence. But as unfortunately there are many, who, too indolent to examine for themselves, take up their opinions from the biased representations of others, I have thought it my duty to draw their attention to the points of accusation, and show those on which I rely for defence.

1st. It is stated, that when I alledge in my affidavit that "neither I, nor any other person whatever, to the best of my knowledge, had any title, deed or transfer of the vessel from Jonathan Arnold, or the former proprietor of the said vessel," I must have mis-tated this fact, because Wooster had before conveyed her to me. But by the testimony of Mr. Blagge, (No. 59) it appears that Mr. Wooster, the only person from whom it is pretended I have ever received a conveyance, never was a proprietor at all. Consequently my testimony in this respect is perfectly correct, and I could have made no other without violating the truth.

2d. That in my answer to the second interrogatory, I declared that "the Grand Sachem never was represented as belonging to Spaniards, or naturalized subjects of Spain," and that this is disproved by the production of the transfer to me. But I was neither a Spaniard, nor a naturalized subject of Spain. For the proof of this fact, I refer to the certificate of Don Andres Armesio, (No. 60.) This gentleman was secretary of the province, who must have known my relation in the government;—and he states explicitly that I would never take the oath of allegiance, although it was frequently proposed to me. That the vessel never was represented as Spanish, appears too from the certificate, (No. 56.) above referred to.

3. That my answer to the second interrogatory denies that any sale was made by Arnold, or any other person, to me, since the brig was the property of Arnold. This is exactly according to the fact; for it appears, by the declaration of Mr. Blagge, that the vessel was not conveyed to Arnold until long after the date of Wooster's conveyance to me; which also appears by the register of the brig, given when the property was changed, and which bears date the 10th of Jan. 1793 (No. 61.)

The other circumstances stated in my deposition, relative to the knowledge of the government, is proved by the certificate above referred to (No. 56) and the testimony of Mr. Potter (62); and the assertion, that a transfer was not necessary to obtain the permission to trade, is evident, from her being permitted in the first instance to enter, without any nominal sale, to Woonsocket. What then appears from the whole of this transaction? Testimony given according to the exact and literal statement of facts. But if the letter of the fact has been adhered to, the spirit of the truth has been equally preserved; for I should think as contemptibly of the man who should shelter himself under the literal meaning of his words, while it was evidently his intention to convey an idea different from their strict import, as I would of the bold abandoned perjurer. To constitute this species of guilt, there must be deception. Upon whom could any have been intended? Not the government—they were fully apprized of the true character of the vessel.—The owners? It was done with the consent of their agent, and for their benefit. The enemies of Spain? As little—no Spaniard having any interest, they could not complain either of my conduct or my declaration. Let it be remembered, that the whole value of this vessel was about three thousand dollars, and then determine what sum Mr. Arnold could have given, to induce me to come from N. Orleans to Charleston, to perjure myself for his benefit.

tion of these tribunals, and should be discovered after a period of thirteen years, from the very evidence which was then before both those courts. Is it not evident, from the affirmation of the judgement in favor of Arnold, that there was no contradiction between my testimony and Wooster's deed? for I again repeat that this deed was produced on the trial, forms now a part of the record, and is not a hidden proof, now first starting up to convict me of falsehood.

FROM THE NORTH AMERICAN.

We learn that a gentleman, who came passenger in the Hawk from Messina, brings the information, that the Armistice between France and Austria was solicited by Buonaparte.

We have received by this vessel a Messina paper of the 31st July, from which we have extracted two Papal Bulls of great interest, to the Catholic world more particularly. One of them relates to the usurpation of the Pope's temporalities; and the other pronounces Napoleon Bonaparte and his accomplices ~~excommunicated~~ <sup>excommunicated</sup> for that cause. Such a bold and decisive step, of which for a long series of years there has been no example, evinces a spirit of resistance against impious robbery, the consequences of which must have been anticipated to be full of danger to the person of Pius the 7th, surrounded as he was by the generals and the soldiery of his despoiler. Accordingly we learn that shortly after the Bull of excommunication was tulminated, the Pope disappeared and no researches could penetrate to a knowledge of the place of his captivity or the mode of his catastrophe.

What can bound the rapacity which actuates the tyrant of Europe? The temporalities of the Pope were as much his property as the possession of any temporal Prince. The title of the Roman Pontiffs to their dominion prescriptively acknowledged and settled could yield to nothing but downright violence. Whilst all mankind therefore must look upon this usurpation as a flagrant breach of right, the Catholic adds to the outrage the crimes of sacrilege and impiety.

The Italian copy of the excommunication is a translation from the Latin, and is probably not more than the concluding and operating clause of the Bull; the preliminary explanations being contained in the preamble and the acts referred to.

*Extract from the Messina Gazette of Ju-

A vessel under a neutral flag from Citta Vecchia has furnished us with a copy of the declaration issued by his Holiness Pius 7th at the time of the sacrilegious invasion of all his dominions, and of the patrimony of the church; and likewise of the sentence of excommunication issued against Bonaparte and his accomplices, on the 10th of June, which acts of the Pope are herewith published, to render them more generally known throughout the Catholic world.

P. PIUS POPE VII.
The disastrous designs of the foes of the Apostolical See are at length complicated. After suffering the violent and iniquitous spoliation of the fairest and most considerable portion of our dominions, we now behold ourselves deprived entirely, under unworthy pretexts and with the most grievous injustice, of all our temporal sovereignty, with which our spiritual independence is closely connected. This consolation accompanies us, under the pressure of this severe persecution, that it has not been incurred for any wrong done to the emperor, or to France, which has been always the object of our tender, fatherly solicitude; nor on account of any worldly political artifice; but because we would not betray our duties of our conscience.

No one, who professes the Catholic religion, and much less he, who presides over, and is principally bound to announce it, can displease God for the sake of pleasing men.

Bound moreover to God, and to the Church to transmit our rights whole and entire, we protest against this new spoliation, and declare it null and void.

We reject with the most determined resolution the assignment of any allowance intended for us or the members of our College (of Cardinals) by the emperor of the French.

We should be overwhelmed with disgrace in the sight of the Church, if we submitted to receive our subsistence from the hands of the usurper of her patrimony.

We resign ourselves entirely to the Providence, and to the devotion of the faithful servants of God, and shall be satisfied piously to conclude the bitter career of our painful life.

We adore with profound humiliation inscrutable designs of God. We invoke his by over all our good subjects always our joy and our crowning discharged in these instances, our duty, we serve in all integrity, their ch, and with sighs and tears in supplication to the superiors, that he would graciously work a change in the wicked persecutors. Given at the apostolical palace this 10th day nification.

THIS POPE V

By authority of the Almighty Father, the Holy Spirit, and the saints St. Peter and St. Paul, we, your Apostolic Father, Napoleon Bonaparte, in the name of the Holy See, do hereby declare, that you are now executing, to have the sentence of excommunication pronounced against you, by our apostolic letters, containing the same, published and affixed at the door of your city, we declare all those who since the forcible invasion of the 2d of Feb. 1808, have taken any measures against which not only the laws of God, but the laws of the empire, and the laws of the secretaries of state by which the same laws are enforced, have protested, or have uttered any calumnious allegations (discourses) against the Holy See, on the 1st, 3d, 5th, 7th, 9th, 11th and 13th of March and 11th of July, shall be liable to the same penalties attaches to all traitors, supporters, advisers, and all others who have executed themselves, or procured others to execute, the sentence of the above mentioned excommunication, and committed any of the above mentioned crimes and violence. of the saints St. Peter and St. Paul, we declare you Napoleon Bonaparte and all your accomplices (co-operators) in the act, which you are now executing, to have incurred the our apostolic letters, contemporaneously published and affixed at the usual places in this city, we declare all those to have fallen, who since the forcible invasion of this city on the 2d of Feb. 1808, have committed the violences against which not only our successive secretaries of state by our orders, but we ourselves have protested in two consistorial allocutions (discourses) of the 15th March and 11th of July, 1808; and the same penalties attaches to all mandatories, supporters, advisers, and all others who have executed themselves, or procured the execution of the above mentioned usurpations and violences. Given at Rome at the THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 28.

Mr. Custis's Address to-morrow.

Captain White of the schr. Hawk, in 48 days from Messina, informs that about July 12 while he was at Messina the admiral of the Sicilian gun boats undertook to dislodge the French from the castle of Schella which commanded the heights of Messina and annoyed the passage; he requested the English commander to lie in reserve. He attacked the French gun boats and took 32 of them which he brought in, and took the Castle. The conduct of the Sicilians exceeded the expectation of the English and every one on shore. The whole of the engagement being distinctly seen from the town—2000 of the English troops had taken possession of the islands of Ischia and Cadri at the entrance of the harbor of Naples; and having landed, they and the French were a considerable while in view of each other and each retired without firing a gun; shortly after orders came from admiral Collingwood for the English to evacuate the island and retire to Sicily, as information had been received that the French had 300 transports and 30,000 men at Toulon ready for sea and an attack was expected from some quarter. The latest accounts they had from Vienna from an Austrian officer, was to the 11th of July; they were rather confused.—Balt. N. Amer.

NEW LONDON, Sept. 20.

Arrived, brig Cleopatra, D. Deshon, 29 days from Demarara.

Brig Washington, Mather, 28 days from Antigua. Came passenger, W. Lynde, late master of the brig Joseph of Saybrook, who states, that on the 20th of July, under the lee of Guadaloupe, between 9 and 10 in the evening, it being almost calm, was boarded by an open French boat, manned with 13 men armed with muskets, pistols and cutlasses—who took possession of his vessel and conducted her into Basseterre, Gua-daloupe, where she, on 31st July, together with the schooner Philander, Clark, of New Haven, and the brig Montpelier, Wilson, of Salem, were totally condemned under the Milan Decree. A few days after, the schr. Satocoga, Tucker, from Marblehead was brought in and condemned; and on the 17th Aug. a large schr. from the Eastward, with fish, provisions and lumber was brought in—captain or vessels name not recollected. The French have many armed boats fitted out as privateers, some open and some decked full of men —two from Point Petre mounting cannon, with 50 or 60 men. These boats cruise as far southward as Dominique, and as far north as Mountserrat, and take and condemn all American vessels bound to or from any English port, or having been spoken with cruisers, or having had their papers endorsed. August 1st, came on a very heavy gale at Basseterre, which drove on shore 17 sail of vessels, among which was the Joseph and the Montpelier, but fortunately no lives were lost; the schr. Philander rode out the gale, and was purchased in at auction by captain Clarke, in which vessel myself and captain Wilson and crews left Guadaloupe on the 10th of August for St. Bartholomewa, and the same evening was taken possession of by the British sloop of war Pelter, and conducted to Antigua, where the next day the schr.
was cleared and proceeded to leeward.

PHILADELPHIA, September 25.

We understand that Mr. Erskine, late British Minister to this country, leaves town to-morrow for the southward. About the 1st Oct. he will have an audience of leave with the president of the U. S. who is then to be at Washington. Mr. Erskine then embarks on board the Africaine frigate and proceeds home.

Arrived, ship Superior, capt. Butler, 51 days from Liverpool. Capt. Butler sailed the 10th Aug. and brings nothing later than already received. Spoke the ship Oliver Ellsworth, from Liverpool for N. York—which vessel sailed three days after the Superior, and was informed by her, that accounts had been received in England of the complete success of the British expedition.
Flushing and all the other points of attack having surrendered. Off the Western isles spoke the British sloop of war Nautilus, who had fell in with a cutter from Spain carrying despatches, containing an account of a victory obtained over the French in Spain.— This must relate to the action of the 27th and 28th July. The loss of the French, as reported by the Nautilus, is but 14,000, killed and taken prisoners.

The City Council of London, the beginning of August, had a motion before them for rescinding their former vote of thanks to Colonel Wardle.

It is reported by the Superior that Bonaparte had returned to Paris. This is not likely to have occurred so soon.

American produce had experienced a considerable rise in England, in consequence of the well-grounded expectation that immediately on hearing of the rejection of Mr. Erskine's arrangement, this government would revive the provisions of the non-intercourse.

TO PARENTS.

The annexed cases of cures performed by HAMILTON'S
CELEBRATED WORM DESTROYING
LOZENGES.
(Selected from a very numerous list.)

ARE presented as indubitable proof of the excellence and safety of this valuable specific, for destroying worms in the human stomach and intestines.

From Mr. Benjamin Williams, No. 30, Baltimore street, two doors above south Gay-street.

I have a son six years of age, who for four years past, has been generally in a very unhealthy state, particularly in summer; frequently afflicted with alarming convulsion fits, the whole of his little frame wasted fast, his breath foetid, and almost constant itching at the nose was excited, with other alarming symptoms. During the course of the above period, the advice and attendance of three of the most eminent physicians in Baltimore were successively procured. Each of these gentlemen, in his turn, declared worms to be the cause of the child's disorder, and exhausted his skill in attempting to expel them. Pink root, steel filings, with a variety of other medicines, were administered without the least success. It was once pronounced impossible for the child to live many hours.

I had heard of your Worm Destroying Lo-zenges, but with many others did not think highly of so cheap a medicine, until a gentleman of my acquaintance (Mr. Wm. S. Moore, auctioneer) in whose family they had been used with good effect, advised me to make trial of them; I accordingly gave my son a dose agreeable to directions, which soon expelled eight large worms, some of them about eight inches in length; a second dose brought away four more of similar size; a third dose being administered, no worms appeared. The child recovered and now enjoys a good state of health.

BENJAMIN WILLIAMS.

AFFIDAVIT.

Michael Duffy, residing at No. 27, Walkes street, Fell's Point, in the city of Baltimore voluntarily maketh oath that the following statement is just and true:

In the beginning of May last, my three children, a boy of seven, and two girls the one five, and the other three years of age were taken very ill, nearly at the same time, of a common fever, as I then supposed; but was soon convinced the disorder was caused by worms. They were frequently troubled with convulsion fits, and violent startings in their sleep, and with almost continual vomiting and purging particularly the youngest. I made immediate application to a physician of the first reputation, and his medicines were administered with a confidence of success, which only increased our disappointment. The children grew daily worse, and I was absolutely without hopes of their recovery. The youngest soon appeared almost devoid of animation, and scarcely an inhabitant of this world. In this distressing moment I was told that Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges had performed many cures in cases equally desperate. I immediately purchased a box, and gave each of them a dose, which in a few hours produced the most desirable effects. The eldest voided a great number of very large worms, and the second thousands of small ones, many of them not a quarter of an inch. In the youngest they seemed to be consumed, and had the appearance of skin and slimy matter. I repeated the dose agreeable to the paper of directions, and they all speedily recovered a good state of health, which they still enjoy, though 5 months have nearly elapsed, since they were on the borders of the grave, and the death of the whole seemed to be inevitable.

ber, 1799.

TO H. LEE.

Some time last spring I was afflicted with loss of appetite, giddiness in the head, fever, and great debility, so that I could scarcely walk. In this distressing situation I took many things, but without benefit. An acquaintance in the country sent to me to procure a box of Hamilton's Lozenges. Curiosity prompted me to read the directions, where I found my complaint exactly described by the doctor. I immediately sent for another box of the Lozenges, and took one dose, which brought away a large quantity of worms, and I felt greatly relieved. Encouraged by this, I took another dose, which was attended with the happiest effects, as it relieved me entirely, and am now in a better state of health than for a considerable time past. I have since given them to my children, and can speak from experience, that they are a most valuable medicine, and am happy to add my testimony to numberless others of their efficacy.

SARAH JOHNSON,

No. 140, north Second Street.

Among the symptoms attending Worms are, disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—bad and corrupted gums—itching in the nose and about the seat—convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech—irregular appetite, sometimes loating food and sometimes voracious—purging, with slimy and foetid stools—vomiting—large and hard belly—pains and sickness at the stomach—pains in the head and thigh, with lowness of spirits—slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—a dry cough—excessive thirst—sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

Prevention better than Cure.

In cases of head ache, foul stomach, and for removing superfluous bile, perhaps no remedy has been discovered superior to LEE'S HAHN'S ANTIBILIOUS PILLS.

Which for 10 years past have been attended with the greatest success. The testimony of many respectable persons in our southern sea ports has been adduced who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy during the prevalence of malignant fevers, has preserved their health after experiencing alarming symptoms of fever.

Certificate of Wm. Devenny.

During the last nine years I have been in the habit of using Hahn's Antibilious Pills, prepared by the late Mr. Lee, whenever colds, head ache, or costiveness have rendered medicine necessary; in these cases a single dose has uniformly removed my head ache, and has generally been found sufficient to remove every symptom of a cold, if taken on its first appearance. Induced by the benefit I have received, I have for years past recommended them to many of my friends, and I have the pleasure to inform you, they have invariably succeeded in removing the above complaints.

Yours, WM. DEVENNY,

in Brentown, Fauquier county, Va. on Monday the 4th of September, a mulatto fellow named DAVID, about 5 feet 3 or 6
